ART BY GABRIELA SANCHEZ

2019-2020 REFLECTIONS ART PROGRAM

LOOK WITHIN

The PTA Reflections Art Program is a national arts recognition and achievement program for students and was established in 1969 by National PTA board member Mary Lou Anderson. Since inception, over 10 million students across the nation have participated. The Reflections Art Program provides opportunities for students to express themselves creatively and to receive positive recognition for original works of art inspired by a pre-selected theme, while increasing community awareness on the importance of the arts in education.

Participation in the Reflections Art Program is a great way for students to explore and learn about various art forms. Creating art is a valuable learning process which challenges students to use their critical thinking skills as well as their creative talents to create art supporting a specific theme.

Depending on local PTA guidelines, students may enter in as many categories as they choose to and may submit more than one work of art in any of the categories listed below. Only original works of art, created specifically for the Reflections Art Program are accepted.

- DANCE CHOREOGRAPHY
- LITERATURE
- PHOTOGRAPHY
- FILM PRODUCTION
- MUSIC COMPOSITION
- VISUAL ARTS

Student works are reviewed against others in the same division, with emphasis on how a student interprets their submission to the theme. This allows recognition of artworks by appropriate developmental age and skill levels.

- PRIMARY - PRESCHOOL TO GRADE 2
- HIGH SCHOOL - GRADES 9 - 12
- INTERMEDIATE - GRADES 3 - 5
- SPECIAL ARTIST - ANY GRADE
- MIDDLE SCHOOL - GRADES 6 - 8

The Reflections Art Program is structured for PTAs to recognize students at the local unit, council, district, state and national PTA levels. Once entries reach the level of the California State PTA, entries may be selected for submission to the National PTA for review. National PTA Outstanding Interpretation entries are recognized at the annual National PTA convention. National PTA Outstanding Interpretation, Award of Excellence and Award of Merit entries may be displayed as part of the program's traveling exhibit.

CALIFORNIA STATE PTA REFLECTIONS ART PROGRAM THEME SEARCH STUDENTS

Each year, students are invited to submit themes for the annual Reflections Art Program that will inspire young artists to create original works.

California State PTA's Theme Search 2021-22 finalists going to National PTA judging are:

BE YOUR OWN KIND OF BEAUTIFUL

Grade: 6
Middle School Division
Laguna Road Elementary School
Fourth District PTA

For pre-teens/teens like me, there are so many pressures on beauty and how you look. Looking through magazines and social media can be overwhelming. You just have to be confident, fearless, and look within and find the beauty within yourself.

AUBREY HUTT

BRAVE

Grade: 2
Primary Division
Anaheim Hills Elementary School
Fourth District PTA

I choreographed a jazz dance called "Brave." When I was starting to try out for Gym Team I was nervous if I would make the team or not. I asked myself, "Could I handle it?" I knew it was going to be a hard challenge. I had to look within myself to be brave, be strong, and believe in myself. I then knew I could do it! Because I looked within to fight the fear and to be BRAVE, I made the Gym Team!

BROOKLYN COVINGTON

SHE USED TO BE MINE

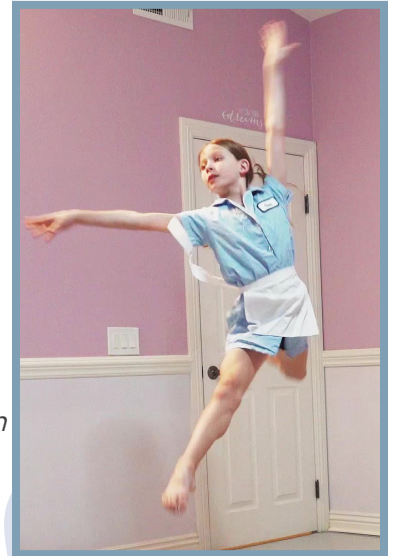

Grade: 5

Intermediate Division

James Foster Elementary School

Thirty-Fourth District PTA

The girl in this dance by Sara Bareilles, "She Used to Be Mine," is looking within to find the good in her instead of imperfections. As I choreographed this dance, I thought about the small movements being her imperfections and the big movements being her good parts.

PERCEPTION

Grade: 10

High School Division

Poway High School

Ninth District PTA

Similar to the cover of a book, people cannot be judged solely by their appearances. In order to fully get to know someone, one should look past the physical characteristics a person possesses and instead seek for true qualities deep inside. Every single one of us has remarkable personalities that make each of us unique in our own ways. Rather than discriminating someone immediately based on what we initially perceive, try to find beautiful traits within that may be similar to those you have.

SELF FOCUS - LOOK WITHIN

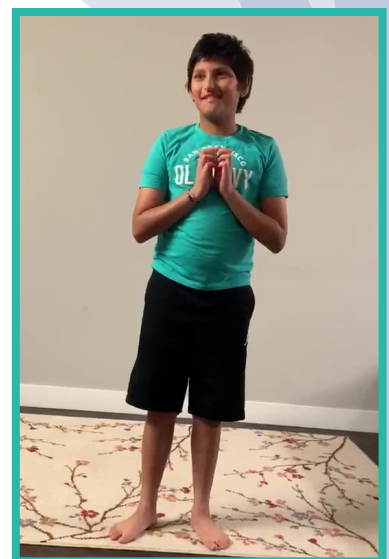

Grade: 6

Special Artist Division

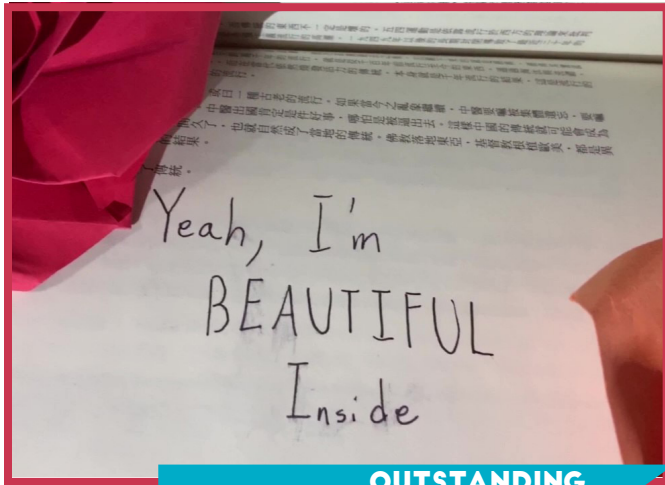

Sunnyvale Middle School

Sixth District PTA

My dance is about focus on self and the world. It also teaches me about believing in myself. If I believe in myself, I can achieve any impossible goal. It gives me positivity.

LOOK WITHIN

Grade: 7
Middle School Division
Travis Ranch School
Fourth District PTA

I made a video called LOOK WITHIN of my song "Look inside," that takes the saying, "Don't judge a book by its cover" Literally. A book that's in bad shape and battered is rejected by the other books on the shelf and asks that they look inside its covers to see where its true beauty lies, within.

MACKENZIE QUAN

A LOOK WITHIN THE HUMAN BODY

Grade: 1
Primary Division
Emblem Elementary School
Thirty-Fourth District PTA

*The human body is something you can look within.
Within the body, there are lots of things, like bones, organs, and skin (that's not in the body but part of it).
I would like to teach lots of children about the human body.*

NAOMI CLARKE

SIX WORDS, 1 MILLION STORIES

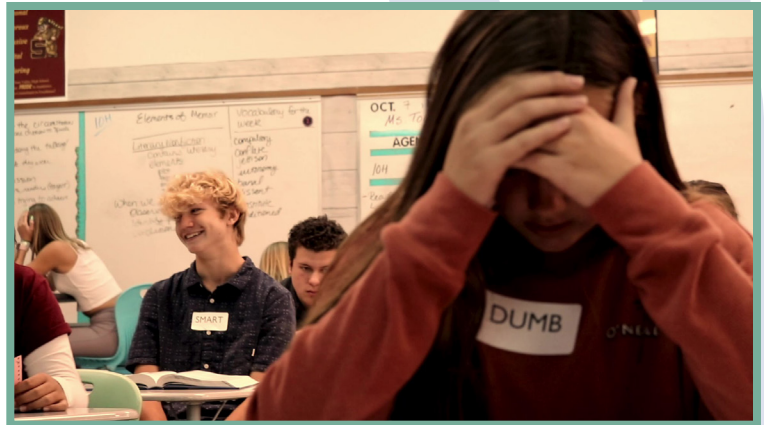

Grade: 5
Intermediate Division
Oak Creek Elementary School
Fourth District PTA

A little girl named Bloom loves to listen to the stories of her Mother's life. One day Bloom finds herself reimagining those stories yet she is her mother instead. This all leads up to her homework and the question, "Who do you want to be when you grow up?" So Bloom has to look within the meanings of those stories and pick out details that describe her mom, and why Bloom wants to be her when she grows up.

PAIGE RODNUNSKY

MORE TO ME

Grade: 10
High School Division
Simi High School
Twelfth District PTA

In this piece I wanted to show that there is much more to a student than just a simple letter on their report card. They should be able to express their difference and be content with doing so. I feel that a lot of the time, people get labeled as either "smart" or "dumb" but those labels shouldn't define us. Also, some others try to fit students into one category but we should stand up for ourselves and show our creativity through the things we love.

ZARRAR ZUBAIR

LOOK WITHIN ME. I AM GREAT! HURRAH!

Grade: 5
Special Artist Division
Adams Elementary School
Fourth District PTA

Look within me, I am great! Hurrah! I am Zarrar. I am autistic, and artistic. This is my story. Look within my journey into autism. I love my bike. I love to twirl, watch planes, and swim. I love to dance. Videos are my favorite, love YouTube. I love to take selfies, create doodle art on my iPad, record audio of furby, take videos, play with technology. I love filters. I hope you like my movie.

LITERATURE

ALISHA BOSE

BURNING COLORS

Grade: 10
High School Division
Lynbrook High School
Sixth District PTA

When I look within, I usually only find the dull grey of good grades and college prep. But I've always known that I wanted my life to be more colorful so I shunned the common grey statues that society wants us to be and deep within, I found the colors and passions within me.

OUTSTANDING INTERPRETATION WINNER

burning colors | alisha bose

you keep creating and creating the same little statues of granite and gold and common gems all of them standing in one perfect line waiting, and desperate, for their chance to shine

you try to shape me too, pummel me into submission but my spirit and i don't fit into your mold of perfect grades, SAT scores and college, and classrooms of limited knowledge

yet you take a scalpel and chip away at me, all the while telling me that i'm not and never will be good enough to become another mindless statue

but i've been watching the others that you harden in your fiery kiln and despite how beautiful they are,
they always come out with a scar scars that cut and mark their grey skin and split their perfect smiles in half until they slowly start to crack under the weight of what they lack i pity them, but i learn how to rise up and paint my own skin with my colorful passions, my vibrant heart and i finally become art.

and now i'm able to look deep within,
and find piles upon piles of colors,
more than i ever conjured in my fantasies which now are so in line with my realities.

i look within,
and find coral pink music and blue-bound books and yellow paintings of valleys so green that i need not wonder what i could have been for i am no longer another grey statue, alone and unseen now, i shine with the light of a thousand stars' sheen.

So Much More

There is so much more to me on the inside than the outside.

Outside, you see a head with brown hair, and a face with two eyes, a nose, and a mouth.

Inside, there is a smart brain full of great ideas and skills. Also there is a tongue that loves the taste of watermelon.

Outside, you see two skinny arms and two hands with five fingers each.

Inside, there are engines. They are what help me move and do the things i do: use my walker, do my exercises, grab stuff, play games, play the snare drum, swim, and even write this poem.

Outside, you see a chest and belly or maybe a really cool shirt.

Inside, there is a spine that is not too straight, and there is a heart full of love and kindness.

Outside, you see two legs and two feet that look like they have no purpose.

Inside, there are muscles that are trying to move, but are not sure how to. They go to therapy to learn how to become stronger.

If you just look within, you will see that there is so much more to me on the inside than the outside.

SO MUCH MORE

Grade: 8
Special Artist Division
David A. Brown Middle School
Twenty-Third District PTA

Let's say you are shopping at the supermarket and you see a man. By his appearance, you judge what the man is like. What you think of him could be true, but what if it's not? What if he is the exact opposite of what you infer? You wouldn't know until you looked within him. You wouldn't know until you got to know him and see what he is actually like. However, it's not a man in the supermarket you will be looking within. In this poem you will look within me.

ELISE CHEUNG

MOO MOO'S INCREDIBLE JOURNEY OF COURAGE

Grade: 2

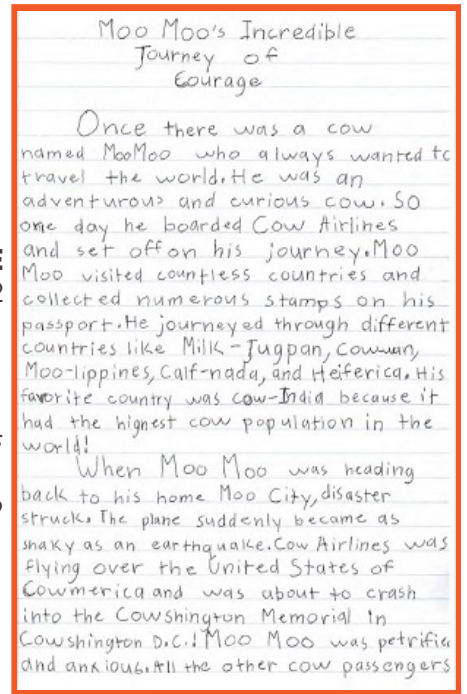

Primary Division

Golden View Elementary School

Thirty-Second District PTA

This is a story about a cow that finds courage when he is in danger. Sometimes I come across problems and challenges in my own life, it's easy to just give up.

I have to remind myself to look within my heart to find the courage and to overcome my fears and do something that I didn't think was possible.

Hatched By Kiera Maben

I pecked at my shell, hitting hard and trying to break out. Crack! A thin web of cracks spread along the shell in front of my beak. I hit harder until I could poke my beak out of the shell, and continued wriggling until I broke free of the egg. Finally! I'm out of my egg! I thought. As I looked around, I saw that I was in a large metal bin with many other chicks. I seemed to be the last one to hatch from my egg. I tried to hop over to another chick, but the tub that we were in started tilting downwards until it was upside-down, and I tumbled headfirst into a crate. The lid was slammed down when all of us were inside. I heard a loud cry of pain and looked up. There, hanging above me, was a chick with its wing stuck in the lid! He screeched again as the lid was thrown open, and the chick was thrown roughly to the bottom of the crate.

"Are you okay?" I asked, immediately very concerned for the other chick. He mumbled a halfhearted, "Yeah," before curling up on the floor.

Soon, the lid of the crate was opened and we were dumped onto a conveyor belt. We moved forward slowly

HATCHED

Grade: 5

Intermediate Division

Millikin Basics+ Elementary School

I feel very strongly about the inhuman way in which chickens are treated in the food industry. Their plight is horrendous and truly heartbreaking. My story is an effort to have us look within ourselves and feel their pain and make the much needed change.

JOANA THOMAS

WITHIN ME

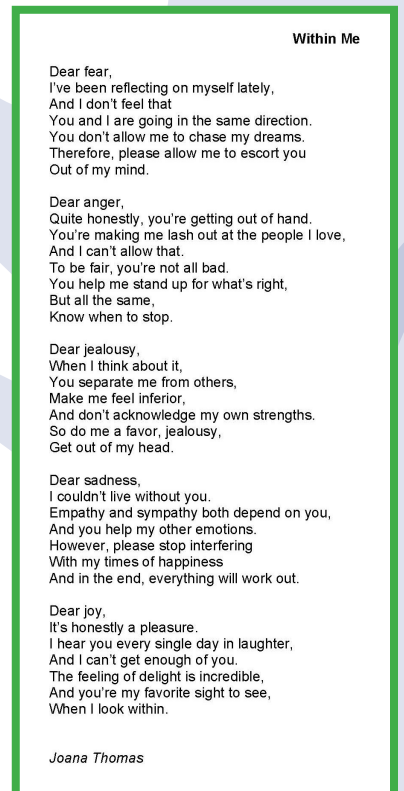

Grade: 8

Middle School Division

Santiago Middle School

Fourth District PTA

My work is a poem written to my emotions. When a person looks within, many think of self reflection & growth, and I think to grow, we need to assess our emotions.

MUSIC COMPOSITION

ILLASELL TAN

LOOK WITHIN YOURSELF

Grade: 7

Middle School Division
Canyon Lake Middle School
Twenty-Third District PTA

My composition consists of me singing with the accompaniment of the piano played by myself. The song shows how you should accept who and what you are and that nobody's perfect. It relates to the theme by explaining how you should look within yourself to find that you are worth more than you believe you are. Whenever in doubt, reflect and realize that you matter.

OUTSTANDING

Look Within Yourself

by ILLASELL TAN

When you look inside yourself, do you see your imperfections?
When you look out your window, you see your reflection
And that is all because you are here for a reason
The sadness you get is just the cold that you could freeze in.
When you're feeling down, your heart just shatters.
Guess what, your voice matters.

You are more than you think you are.
You shine brighter than a star.
Can't you see your potential? Oh it is special.
Even if you can't reach that spirit high up on that shelf,
Just look within yourself.

Just accept yourself,
You aren't perfect.
You feel like you're worthless, and you feel like you're hopeless.
Just know that you are worth it.
When you're feeling down, your heart just shatters.
Guess what, your voice matters.

You are more than you think you are.
You shine brighter than a star.
Can't you see your potential? Oh it is special.
Even if you can't reach your spirit high up on that shelf,
Just look within yourself.

You are more than you think you are.
You shine brighter than a star.
Can't you see your potential? Oh it is special.
Even if you can't reach your spirit high up on that shelf,
Just look within yourself.

THE WATER IN THE OCEAN

Grade: 2

Primary Division
Lang Ranch Elementary School
Twelfth District PTA

Each wave is different in the ocean. Some are strong and some are soft. But deep within, each wave is the same. They are all water. Some water travels into the air, forms into clouds, turns into rains and snows, joins the river and then travels back to the sea. Some water sinks into the sands and rejoins the ocean deep down. This is a song I wrote for the water in the ocean. They are different in their appearances and have different journeys, but looking within, we will find that they have the same essence and the same origin.

SAMUEL PAXTON

ON THE INSIDE

Grade: 5
Intermediate Division
Patrick Henry Elementary School
Thirty-Third District PTA

My work has to do with the theme "look within" because it states to pay attention to people's qualities, and to not judge by a person's appearance.

ARCHIMEDES LI

QUANTUM QUINTET

Grade: 10
High School Division
Westview High School
Ninth District PTA

"Quantum Quintet" looks within matter of the universe. "Matter" presents the recurring main theme. When we look within, the fugal style of "Molecules" shows molecules clashing and reacting inside the theme. Looking deeper within, the electrons, quick and unpredictable in the "Subatomic Soup", are the rapid 16th/32th notes and tremolo. In the cello and viola lines, however, is the calm theme of protons, and the steady rhythm of neutrons. Look within the quantum zoo to find mysterious strings that are the most fundamental building block, represented by pizzicato, in crazy patterns, like the strings of modern string theory.

Love is a tool and a weapon
Everything more or less
Love is an unanswered question
Sometimes you have to guess
Love is a roaring lion
That will never be bound
Love is a devoted ruler
For the people he lays down his crown.
Chorus- Like a memory it finds you
Like a photograph reminds you
That you never ever have to be alone.
Like a light in darkness leads you
Like a voice needs words it needs you
And like a map it always takes you home.

Love is a powerful ocean
Where we can drown each day
Love is a beat and a rhym
We all have learned to sway
Love is the blood in our bodies
There's a reason why it's red
Love is the song in our heartbeats
The tune inside our heads.
Chorus again.
Beautiful
Powerful
Strong enough to swallow this world
Sweet and sour
A blooming flower
Way more precious than a pearl
Chorus- Like a memory it finds you
Like a photograph reminds you
That you never ever have to be alone.
More solid than a mountain
More liquid than a fountain
It stays with you no matter where you roam
And like a map it always takes you home.
Love is home (Four times).

LOVE IS HOME

Grade: 11
Special Artist Division
Huntington Beach High School
Fourth District PTA

If we look inside ourselves, we will find so much love. Whether we take advantage of love as a tool, to believing that love is an ocean, we have our own image deep in our heart of love which brings us home. These images define the way we love and the people we connect with. Love can be defined so many ways and it means so much to us, that if we love, everything we know is within reach.

DON'T JUDGE A BOOK BY ITS COVER

Grade: 7
Middle School Division
La Entrada Middle School
Seventeenth District PTA

My photo represents the theme look within because it shows that you shouldn't judge a book by its cover. That means that it's the pages and story are more important than how pretty the cover is.

*The light is the person looking within the book.
I believe that my photo fits this theme very well.*

SLATER KING

I SEESEE YOU!

Grade: 2
Special Artist Division
J. H. McGaugh Elementary School
Fourth District PTA

Slater loves to take pictures and videos of himself with his iPad camera. He is always setting up his iPad in different positions and getting some very unique angles in his photos. With this photo he is looking through his outstretched hand. Slater then told his dad the colors he wanted his photo to have. When asked how it relates to theme, "Look Within," he said, "I seeeee you!"

I REALIZE AND RECOGNIZE

Grade: 7

Mom and dad are Korean, they both born in Korea. I was born in the U.S. so I grow thinking I was American. When I was in Korea, I felt something pulls me and very intimate. They have the same hair, eyes and they look like me. I do not speak Korean well and do not understand the sad history but my genetic predisposition I received from my parents and my parents from my grandparents made me look within. I did not want to recognize my Korean American. But now I know I am Matthew (Junsuk) Korean American.

MY WORLD

Grade: 2
Primary Division
Buena Vista Elementary School
Thirty-Second District PTA

My world is beautiful like flowers at where day and night are together. Until last year, I was a little child doing what I wanted to like playing outside with my friends. I drew that memories in my face, because that memory makes me feel happy. I wanted to show a lot of homework that I have at the back of my head. Sometimes it's hard for me, but it will make me a bright child. My world is in full bloom like a beautiful flower.

IMAGINATION FROM WITHIN

Grade: 4

In the drawing I was reading my favorite book. When I read within, many story characters come to life. They are Red Riding Hood, Rapunzel, mermaids, unicorns and many more. Reading is not only fun but also brings me to people I never met, and places I never been to. I love reading and I hope you love to read just as much as I do!

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

Grade: 7
Middle School Division
Bowditch Middle School

A lot of kids are told to try hard in school, get into a good college, get a good job and then make a lot of money. When you look within you will find what you truly want. Therefore you can find the real meaning of life.

SIBLING LOVE

Grade: 10
High School Division
Monte Vista High School
Thirty-Second District PTA

My artwork shows girl orphan is feeding a boy orphan, which I witnessed when volunteering. This girl orphan should receive love and care from her parents, but she can't and it's heart-breaking. However, she is willing to give it to other orphans who she considers as her siblings. This relates to the theme because I was able to reflect on my relationship with my younger sister and realized I never took caring actions like feeding her, so it was life-changing for me to see that the orphans had a deep love for each other even in their unfortunate situation.
