DESEGREGATION AND NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOLS
Adopted by Convention Delegates May 10, 1979
Reviewed by Board of Managers May 2021

WHEREAS, The Concept of Neighborhood Schools was approved by the California State PTA Board of Managers in November 1970; and

WHEREAS, PTA is dedicated to the principle of desegregated education and equal educational opportunity for each child commensurate with his abilities and needs; and

WHEREAS, National PTA convention delegates in 1973 voted to oppose the reassignment of students solely to achieve racial balance in the schools; and

WHEREAS, The support of the local community for public education is accelerated and encouraged by programs that place the focus of experience at the local education center and provide comfortable access for the parent to his child’s classroom; and

WHEREAS, Financial resources for public education are becoming increasingly limited; and

WHEREAS, The mandatory transportation of students for desegregation purposes uses funds which might be used in other ways to improve the quality of the educational program; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the California State PTA strongly oppose the concept of transporting or assigning students involuntarily out of their presently recognized school district for the purposes of desegregation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the California State PTA support the neighborhood schools concept while continuing to foster good human relations and cultural understanding of all ethnic groups in each community.

###

BACKGROUND SUMMARY

This resolution is based on several earlier PTA positions stating support for local control of neighborhood schools, our concern for the principle of equal educational opportunity and opposition to the reassignment of students solely to achieve racial balance in the schools. School districts are currently faced with the problem of providing transportation to students for desegregation and maintaining a quality education program in the face of decreasing school funding.
