PTA’s nonpartisan policy prohibits the PTA from endorsing or opposing a candidate for public office. PTAs may support or oppose issues and principles.

PTAs should:
- Find out when regular or special school board elections will be held.
- Be aware that, by law, PTA (as a non-profit association) must remain neutral in any candidate election. PTA may take positions on issues only.
- Alert community members to the coming election (or appointment) of school board members.
- Emphasize citizen obligation to register and vote.
- Publicize the duties of a school board member and the qualifications of the candidates by providing profiles of all candidates in a non-biased manner.
- Sponsor candidate forums where all school board candidates are invited to speak. (This may be done in cooperation with other nonpartisan organizations, e.g., League of Women Voters.)

Encourage citizens to evaluate carefully each school board candidate on the ability to represent the whole community on all educational issues.

Questions to consider in working more effectively with school boards:
- How many members serve on the school board? What are their names and how can they be contacted?
- How are school board members chosen?
- How often and where does the school board meet? Are the meetings aired on cable television, radio, or via webcast?
- When does the school board reserve time on its agenda for the public to speak, as required by law?
- Does the school board have a written policy on parent involvement that agrees with PTA policy and the California state mandate on parent involvement?
- What is the relationship of site council(s) or other school/parent committees to the school board?
- Does the school board agenda include a report from PTA? Where are agendas, minutes, reports, etc., available?

California State PTA Toolkit – July 2023
Partnership, teamwork and cooperation are the building blocks of education leadership today. The school board and PTA can form an effective partnership to achieve quality public education.

PTA as an organization is devoted to the well-being of all children and youth. It provides parents, teachers and students with the means to participate and work effectively with the school board. At the same time, PTA helps the school board become informed about the community and the needs of children.

School boards are responsible for taking the lead in identifying the community’s education needs and in meeting those needs through local school policies.

The school board’s role
The school board is charged with the responsibility for all aspects of education in a school district. The board acts in conformity with state and federal laws and California Department of Education rules and regulations. The board must also act in conformity with other state rules and regulations that impact school district activities (e.g., health and welfare, safety, etc.).

The school board is legally responsible for policies that govern the operation of the school district. The school board’s main functions are:
• Policy-making.
• Choosing and evaluating the superintendent, and approving selection procedures for other personnel.
• Overseeing the educational programs and business operations of the district according to the California Education Code.
• Exercising fiscal authority. The board adopts the budget, approving all expenditures.
• Long-range planning and goal setting for educational programs of the district.
• Approval of curriculum and adoption of textbooks in accordance with state law and California State Department of Education regulations and local goals.
• Representing the public as the employer of school personnel in any collective bargaining process.

Promoting cooperation between PTA and the school board
PTA bylaws encourage participation in the decision-making process to develop school policy.

Working cooperatively with the school board requires the knowledge and understanding of each participant’s role, responsibility and authority.

PTA and school boards can be valuable partners by:
• Establishing regular two-way communication.
• Appointing liaisons to attend each other’s respective board meetings and making reports at those meetings.
• Communicating important school issues being considered by the school board.
• Keeping members informed of school board/PTA actions and policies through reports in newsletters, meetings and special programs.
• Presenting PTA positions on issues.
• Reporting PTA concerns and parents’ reactions to school policies and community issues.
• Promoting the school board’s written parent involvement policy as mandated by California law.
• Ensuring that PTA has representation on school and district advisory committees and task forces.
• Inviting school board members to participate by helping plan and/or attend PTA meetings, conferences, workshops and open forums.
• Encouraging parents to attend school board meetings.

PTA liaison to the school board
A PTA liaison to the school board is a valuable resource to both groups. The duties of the PTA liaison to the school board include:
• Knowing PTA policies, structure and position statements and voicing the PTA’s consensus, not personal views or opinions, on an issue.
• Studying agendas and reports in advance of meetings.
• Introducing self to school board members, and clarifying the role of PTA liaison.
• Attending school board meetings regularly, and then reporting to PTA.
• Encouraging parents to attend school board meetings.
• Alerting the PTA unit, council or district PTA to issues that may require PTA study and action.
• Sharing PTA in California, National PTA’s Our Children, PTA printed and electronic newsletters and other appropriate PTA publications with school board members.

School board elections and PTA Leadership on local school boards is of vital interest to all citizens.

School board members are either elected or appointed to serve a specified number of years. It is important for PTAs to be involved in either process.

PTA members, including local, state and National PTA officers, may serve on school boards, as long as they do not seek PTA endorsement or use their PTA office to promote their candidacy.
Site administrator and PTA president: Partners working together

The site administrator and the PTA president represent two important groups in the school: staff and parents.

• Meet regularly at agreed-upon times. Discuss issues. Review plans for events. Keep each other informed.
• Work out problems or misunderstandings promptly in a direct, honest way—privately. Keep an open mind. Listen to each other.
• Be positive and enthusiastic about the school when working with parents and community
• Develop a win-win attitude. Celebrate each other’s accomplishments.

The Need for a Real Partnership

Today, there is an undeniable need for parents and administrators to work together to build strong partnerships in education. In PTA, parents and administrators work to improve education and the well-being of children and youth.

With nearly one million members in California, PTA is both the largest and the most active child advocacy organization in the state. PTA volunteers are part of a network unlike any other parent organization. As such, they have extensive resources and impact when advocating for improved education within a community.
Partnerships, teamwork and cooperation are the building blocks of education leadership today. The site administrator and PTA can form an effective partnership to achieve quality public education.

Effective partnership requires the knowledge and understanding of each participant’s role, responsibilities and authority, which includes setting goals and working cooperatively to achieve them. Working together can lead to success for all students.

PTA
PTA as an organization is devoted to the well-being of all children and families. It provides parents, teachers and students with the means to participate and work effectively with the site administrator. At the same time, PTA helps the site administrator become informed about the community and the needs of children and families.

Site administrator’s role
It is the site administrator’s leadership that sets the tone of the school, the climate of learning, the level of professionalism, the morale of the staff, and the degree of concern for students.

School official
The main duties of the site administrator are to
• Ensure that the school follows the curriculum guidelines adopted by the school board and/or school site council*.
• In cooperation with the school staff, determine the instructional strategies used in the school.
• Implement the school district’s procedures for student admission, registration, placement, instruction, evaluation, behavior, due process, and student record maintenance.
• Supervise all school personnel, including training and evaluation, hiring and firing according to the policies and guidelines established by the school board.
• Oversee the school building, safety, maintenance and security.
• Prepare the budget and being accountable for budget expenditures.
• Ensure that the school is in compliance with applicable local, state and federal laws.

*A school site council is a group of people at the local school who have decision-making power for the school. Councils include elected teacher, staff and parent representatives, and generally include a site administrator. Students must be represented on high school councils; middle school student participation is optional.

• Planning for and facilitating parent-teacher conferences, scheduling the conferences at times when parents can attend, and educating parents and teachers how to use these conferences to build parent-teacher-student teamwork.
• Being sensitive to the varied circumstances in students’ lives that affect behavior and academic performance.

Partnership with PTA
To further the PTA partnership, the site administrator can:
• Be an active PTA member.
• Be active in PTA, attending meetings and encouraging teachers to participate.
• Encourage PTA to keep its primary focus on education issues and parent education rather than fund-raising.
• Work together to solve problems and set goals that will benefit all students.
• Help the PTA plan activities to accomplish specific goals (for example, encouraging PTA to plan events that promote children’s well-being, school cooperation, and community betterment). These events often strengthen the school’s business and community relationships as well.
• Work with PTA to develop a program for training and utilizing parent and community volunteers, who can help school staff enrich all areas of the school.
• Write a regular column for the PTA newsletter to keep parents informed of current education issues.
• Provide space for a parent resource center and suggesting materials to include in the center.
• Recognize PTA and community volunteers’ efforts for their contributions to the school.

PTA and site administrator partnership
A working partnership between the site administrator and PTA, dedicated to the well-being of all children and youth, can strengthen family life and improve education for children.

The PTA should:
• Present PTA/community concerns and issues to the site administrator. Develop a process that allows for frank and open discussion.
• Focus on education and how to benefit students.
• Encourage the site administrator to share goals for and concerns about the school.
• Work with the site administrator and/or school site council to set goals and help plan programs/activities to achieve these goals.
• Be alert to staff and community talents and resources, and draw on them for the benefit of the entire school.
• Encourage the site administrator to promote fair discipline for all children. Volunteer to serve on a committee to write a discipline code, if one does not exist.
• Work with the site administrator to develop annual school reports and the annual local site budget. Authorized PTA representatives can speak in support of budgets and other issues at school board and local government meetings.
• Disseminate the annual school accountability report card (SARC).
The Benefits of Partnership
Together PTA and the school superintendent can work toward a quality education for all children by developing a working partnership, communicating with each other, sharing in the decision making and mobilizing the community to action.

The Need for a Real Partnership
Today, there is an undeniable need for parents and the superintendent to work together to build strong partnerships in education. In PTA, parents and the superintendent work to improve education and the well-being of children and youth.

With nearly one million members in California, PTA is both the largest and the most active child advocacy organization in the state. PTA volunteers are part of a network unlike any other parent organization. As such, they have extensive resources and impact when advocating for improved education within a community.

Parents/Guardians are a child’s first educator and school partner. Parents/Guardians share responsibility for their children’s education by:

• Sending to school a child who is ready and eager to learn, self-disciplined and prepared to accept the authority of school staff.
• Seeking the advice of teachers to understand their children’s growth and learning—and sharing information that will help school staff plan for their children.
• Showing commitment to education by attending parent-teacher conferences, open houses, PTA meetings, student concerts and other school programs, whenever possible.
• Attending programs to learn about current issues and trends in education.
• Understanding and working for the passage of school measures.
• Learning about and actively supporting school programs, curriculum, regulations and procedures.
Partnership, teamwork and cooperation are the building blocks of education leadership today. The school superintendent and PTA form an effective partnership to achieve quality public education.

The superintendent serves as the chief executive officer (CEO) of the school district. The superintendent interacts with the school board, site administrators, parents, community leaders, teachers and students. A good working partnership between PTA and the school superintendent enhances opportunities for quality education for young people.

PTA as an organization is devoted to the well-being of all children and families. It provides parents, teachers and students with the means to participate and work with the superintendent. At the same time, PTA helps the superintendent become informed about the community and the needs of children and families.

The superintendent’s role
The superintendent presents the school board with a vision to help identify goals for the school district. Together, the superintendent and school board prioritize education goals and objectives.

Official duties
• The superintendent receives general directions and outlines of goals and policies from the school board.
• The superintendent organizes staff to accomplish these goals and policies and evaluates staff efforts.

• The superintendent presents recommendations to the school board at the annual budget meetings.
• In addition to school board policy, federal/state laws govern the superintendent’s actions.

Note: In communities where site-based management is in place, decision-making and staff responsibilities may be delegated differently.

Superintendent and PTA as education leaders
• Build positive community relationships to support public schools.
• Bring together community members to support public education.
• Form coalitions, as needed, for action regarding education issues.

Building a partnership with PTA
The PTA and the school superintendent have a common goal—quality education. Reaching this goal takes a team effort of parents, teachers and administrators working together.

In achieving this partnership, both the superintendent and PTA have important roles to play.

Superintendent
State law requires school boards to develop policies for parent involvement. The superintendent sets the tone for how such policies are implemented. PTA is critical to this implementation, since it represents a broad base of parents and community members.

The superintendent can help the partnership succeed by:
• Implementing school district policies on parent involvement.
• Sharing school district parent/community involvement policies and procedures.
• Listening to parents.
• Strongly encouraging all schools to have a PTA and helping PTA organize one, if necessary.
• Requiring PTA and community participation in school-wide and district-wide advisory groups and committees.
• Sharing the decision-making process with parents, teachers and students, where applicable.
• Providing school board agendas, administrative agendas and action items to the PTA.
• Assisting site administrators and PTA officers in developing a working relationship.
• Meeting and conferring with the PTA and other community groups at their meetings.
• Assigning key administrators to represent the superintendent to meet with PTA and community groups.
• Working with elected officials on matters that concern children.

• Making it a priority to involve the community in addressing school district issues.
• Helping the community identify education-related areas of interest, concern and need.
• Documenting PTA input to the school board.
• Recognizing PTA’s involvement.
• Becoming an active PTA member.

PTA
By joining together the voices of parents, teachers and community members, the PTA becomes a powerful partner with the superintendent in working for quality education.

The PTA can help the partnership succeed by:
• Becoming familiar with school policies and procedures.
• Understanding and using administrative channels.
• Knowing the different responsibilities and roles of the board, superintendent and site administrator.
• Setting priorities and goals each year and sharing these with the superintendent.
• Involving people who will participate actively on committees and task forces.
• Mobilizing coalitions, when necessary, to achieve education goals to support school issues.
The Need for a Real Partnership

Today, there is an undeniable need for parents and educators to work together to build strong partnerships in education. In PTA, parents and teachers working to improve education and the well-being of children and youth.

With nearly one million members in California, PTA is both the largest and most active child advocacy organization in the state. PTA volunteers are part of a network unlike any other parent organization. As such, they have extensive resources and impact when advocating for improved education within a community.

Home and school are a child’s major influences. The partnership between teachers and parents can help children develop into responsible and reliable citizens.

Children and youth need the support of both teachers and PTA.

Parents/Guardians are a child’s first educator and school partner. Parents/Guardians share responsibility for their children’s education by:

• Sending to school a child who is ready and eager to learn, self-disciplined and prepared to accept the authority of school staff.
• Seeking the advice of teachers to understand their children’s growth and learning—and sharing information that will help school staff plan for their children.

• Understanding and working for the passage of school measures.
• Learning about and actively supporting school programs, curriculum, regulations and procedures.
Partnerships, teamwork and cooperation are the building blocks of education leadership today. Teachers and PTA form an effective partnership to achieve quality education. PTA has always considered teachers an integral part of the PTA organization.

Research shows that family engagement plays an important role in learning. Parent involvement is enhanced by a positive parent-teacher relationship. Teachers are the critical link in a successful partnership between home and school. PTA is an effective means of bringing parents and teachers together.

PTA as an organization is devoted to the well-being of all children and families. It provides parents, administrators and students with the means to participate and work effectively with educators. At the same time, PTA helps educators become informed about the community and the needs of children and families.

Building a partnership
Through PTAs and PTSAs (Parent-Teacher-Student Associations), parents and teachers may work together to achieve common objectives. They may work to:
- Promote education, health and well-being of children and families in the home, school and community.
- Offer parents programs to improve parenting skills.
- Secure passage of adequate laws for the protection of children and youth.
- Strengthen home-school cooperation and communication.

Fostering family engagement
Family engagement in education becomes a reality when there is strong support from the school site. When teachers effectively partner with parents, they strengthen children’s education as well as their school community.

The teacher’s role
Teachers can encourage family engagement in their school by:
- Setting a friendly tone in communication with parents.
- Instituting a regular means of communication with parents/guardians throughout the school year, including weekly classroom print or electronic newsletters, teacher-parent journals, good news phone calls or weekly student folders.
- Establishing a clear policy on homework, its purpose, how much time it should take and how parents can help.
- Making sure that parents/guardians understand classroom programs and policies, and the importance of parent support.
- Supporting parent and community volunteers in the school.
- Sharing with the PTA current topics in education and issues of concern to teachers.
- Joining PTA and attending PTA meetings, serving on committees and in leadership positions and joining in PTA programs and projects.
- Discussing PTA programs at teachers’ meetings and sharing tips about successful ways to involve parents in the classroom and on the school campus.

PTA’s role
A PTA can encourage parents/guardians to be involved in their children’s education by:

By working together, PTAs and teachers can encourage community members to support education by:
- Encouraging community members to become informed about education issues.
- Working to maintain a strong public school system with quality educational programs for all children and youth.
- Supporting training for teachers, site administrators, school board members, parents and community members in their roles as shared decision-makers.
- Urging communities to support professional development for teachers.
