

I Matter

I am a shooting star. Zipping through the solar system. I matter because I am one with the stars.

I am the moon shining brightly, leading the way for Noah and Zoey. I matter because I am a sister.

I am water flowing. Vapor, clouds, and rain. I matter because I am changing.

I am the wind blowing free choosing to go wherever I want. I matter because I have choices.

I am fire glowing and growing never stopping. I matter because I never give up.

I am the minerals of the Earth. Each one with different shapes, colors, and size. I matter because I am unique.

I matter because I am one with my family, the Earth, and the Universe.
